those closest to us weren't always aware of how precious our moments have been to us.

This booklet has been designed to try and bring your most cherished memories to the surface.

MY LAST WISHES

Often, people say they ‘Don’t want a fuss’ or ‘Put me in a cardboard box’, but what about the people who are left behind?
What do they need? What do they want?

Grief is a difficult thing and a funeral, in whatever format it comes, is a huge part of the grieving process for family and friends.
It is an event where people come together to remember, share stories, cry, laugh and get human-to-human contact in their grief.

In short, a funeral is important both to commit your body and soul to the elements, and for the people you leave behind to say why you mattered and to remember you out loud.

Sure, there are all the official and technical things that need to be sorted, but what else?
Doves? Bright colours? Bagpipes?
Flowers from your back garden?
(Almost) anything is possible.

My will is located...

My preference is for a funeral at...

I'd like to be... (Cremated, Buried)

This is the music I'd like played at my service...

I'd like these flowers if they are in season...
